COLOPHON

Every plate in this book was computed, not drawn. A single integer is expanded into a height field by fractal noise; water is routed downhill across that field; valleys are cut along the drainage; climate is derived from latitude and altitude; provinces are grown from watersheds; and the names are coined from a phonology invented for each province.

The same integer always produces the same country. There is no other copy of it anywhere, and no one has been there.

Composed with Pillow and numpy. Set in Garamond and Book Antiqua.

CHOUCHULDORA

a survey of the country, in 5 provinces

Chouchuldora lies between the 46th and 61st parallels. Of the ground within the neat line, 35 parts in a hundred are land. The Cobor breaks upon its western shore, and the Negaufai closes it to the east.

The ground rises to 3,353 metres. The Hisidu carry the highest of it.

The Vouvraubeing is the longest of the rivers shown, 1,010 kilometres from its source to the marshes. The Vraukhound is next at 1,010 kilometres, draining 125,000 square kilometres. Lakes take up 11.5 parts in a hundred of the land, most of them strung along the greater courses.

The country is divided into Rochaulesse, Nonuvale, Kipinland, Raibaath and Thethora, of which Rochaulesse is the largest at 448,000 square kilometres. The seat is at Geberholm, and Woporgate stands furthest from its neighbours, 159 kilometres. No part of this country has been visited twice.

THAINITHESSE

a survey of the country, in 5 provinces

Thainithesse lies between the 33rd and 49th parallels. Of the ground within the neat line, 42 parts in a hundred are land. The Yaufofaust breaks upon its western shore, and the Leimeivrosvam closes it to the east.

The ground rises to 2,995 metres. The Trobaizaesk carry the highest of it.

The Wauzaefai is the longest of the rivers shown, 680 kilometres from its source to the sea. The Trainaeli is next at 590 kilometres, draining 139,000 square kilometres. Lakes take up 7.0 parts in a hundred of the land, most of them strung along the greater courses.

The country is divided into Kibora, Svaechia, Paelaland, Bautraurmoor and Piatoholt, of which Kibora is the largest at 303,000 square kilometres. The seat is at Glevraewick, and Graucitbridge stands furthest from its neighbours, 173 kilometres. No part of this country has been visited twice.

SVAEVRAEREACH

a survey of the country, in 5 provinces

Svaevraereach lies between the 40th and 56th parallels. Of the ground within the neat line, 34 parts in a hundred are land. The Zibrauwau breaks upon its western shore, and the Khogoskohol closes it to the east.

The ground rises to 3,212 metres. The Zaudhoute carry the highest of it.

The Bresusia is the longest of the rivers shown, 830 kilometres from its source to the sea. The Brauzuwia is next at 830 kilometres, draining 86,000 square kilometres. Lakes take up 10.5 parts in a hundred of the land, most of them strung along the greater courses.

The country is divided into Bruwora, Kheifosmoor, Saukhausmark, Gousvouholt and Zautoora, of which Bruwora is the largest at 381,000 square kilometres. The seat is at Dhekharbridge, and Thaesterstead stands furthest from its neighbours, 187 kilometres. No part of this country has been visited twice.

GIANIAREACH

a survey of the country, in 5 provinces

Gianiareach lies between the 30th and 46th parallels. Of the ground within the neat line, 41 parts in a hundred are land. The Disvo breaks upon its western shore.

The ground rises to 3,037 metres. The Kaidrurn carry the highest of it.

The Wiapouwou is the longest of the rivers shown, 870 kilometres from its source to the sea. The Lasuth is next at 510 kilometres, draining 79,000 square kilometres. Lakes take up 8.4 parts in a hundred of the land, most of them strung along the greater courses.

The country is divided into Heinauland, Bubianvale, Cushia, Tritheiskath and Mautroreach, of which Heinauland is the largest at 460,000 square kilometres. The seat is at Kubousthorpe, and Cauwouhaven stands furthest from its neighbours, 196 kilometres. No part of this country has been visited twice.

SHAIBIASESSE

a survey of the country, in 5 provinces

Shaibiasesse lies between the 33rd and 49th parallels. Of the ground within the neat line, 34 parts in a hundred are land. The Skaizaiskaend breaks upon its western shore, and the Khauglael closes it to the east.

The ground rises to 3,163 metres. The Dadasva carry the highest of it.

The Thiavaivria is the longest of the rivers shown, 840 kilometres from its source to the marshes. The Taza is next at 620 kilometres, draining 126,000 square kilometres. Lakes take up 9.5 parts in a hundred of the land, most of them strung along the greater courses.

The country is divided into Dhithaimark, Seiteimoor, Sasaland, Bruyath and Khaukhiria, of which Dhithaimark is the largest at 381,000 square kilometres. The seat is at Brutrainstead, and Yuhiabridge stands furthest from its neighbours, 172 kilometres. No part of this country has been visited twice.

SVOUZAORA

a survey of the country, in 5 provinces

Svouzaora lies between the 43rd and 59th parallels. Of the ground within the neat line, 35 parts in a hundred are land. The Havousheisk breaks upon its western shore, and the Svokaskeihein closes it to the east.

The ground rises to 3,140 metres. The Zugriagugei carry the highest of it.

The Reizazia is the longest of the rivers shown, 930 kilometres from its source to the sea. The Garakeigald is next at 930 kilometres, draining 97,000 square kilometres. Lakes take up 8.3 parts in a hundred of the land, most of them strung along the greater courses.

The country is divided into Caucounheim, Skesviheim, Grakasreach, Naglousreach and Sveiskoundath, of which Caucounheim is the largest at 305,000 square kilometres. The seat is at Grushustead, and Chaisveford stands furthest from its neighbours, 179 kilometres. No part of this country has been visited twice.
