COLOPHON

Every plate in this book was computed, not drawn. A single integer is expanded into a height field by fractal noise; water is routed downhill across that field; valleys are cut along the drainage; climate is derived from latitude and altitude; provinces are grown from watersheds; and the names are coined from a phonology invented for each province.

The same integer always produces the same country. There is no other copy of it anywhere, and no one has been there.

Composed with Pillow and numpy. Set in Garamond and Book Antiqua.

CHOUCHULDORA

surveyed in the year MDCCCI

a survey of the country, in 5 provinces

Chouchuldora lies between the 46th and 61st parallels. Of the ground within the neat line, 35 parts in a hundred are land. The Cobor breaks upon its western shore, and the Negaufai closes it to the east.

The ground rises to 3,353 metres. The Hisidu carry the highest of it.

The Vouvraubeing is the longest of the rivers shown, 1,010 kilometres from its source to the marshes. The Vraukhound is next at 1,010 kilometres, draining 125,000 square kilometres. Lakes take up 11.5 parts in a hundred of the land, most of them strung along the greater courses.

The country is divided into Rochaulesse, Nonuvale, Kipinland, Raibaath and Thethora, of which Rochaulesse is the largest at 448,000 square kilometres. The seat is at Geberholm, and Woporgate stands furthest from its neighbours, 159 kilometres. No part of this country has been visited twice.

SVAEVRAEREACH

a survey of the country, in 5 provinces

Svaevraereach lies between the 40th and 56th parallels. Of the ground within the neat line, 34 parts in a hundred are land. The Zibrauwau breaks upon its western shore, and the Khogoskohol closes it to the east.

The ground rises to 3,212 metres. The Zaudhoute carry the highest of it.

The Bresusia is the longest of the rivers shown, 830 kilometres from its source to the sea. The Brauzuwia is next at 830 kilometres, draining 86,000 square kilometres. Lakes take up 10.5 parts in a hundred of the land, most of them strung along the greater courses.

The country is divided into Bruwora, Kheifosmoor, Saukhausmark, Gousvouholt and Zautoora, of which Bruwora is the largest at 381,000 square kilometres. The seat is at Dhekharbridge, and Thaesterstead stands furthest from its neighbours, 187 kilometres. No part of this country has been visited twice.

GIANIAREACH

a survey of the country, in 5 provinces

Gianiareach lies between the 30th and 46th parallels. Of the ground within the neat line, 41 parts in a hundred are land. The Disvo breaks upon its western shore.

The ground rises to 3,037 metres. The Kaidrurn carry the highest of it.

The Wiapouwou is the longest of the rivers shown, 870 kilometres from its source to the sea. The Lasuth is next at 510 kilometres, draining 79,000 square kilometres. Lakes take up 8.4 parts in a hundred of the land, most of them strung along the greater courses.

The country is divided into Heinauland, Bubianvale, Cushia, Tritheiskath and Mautroreach, of which Heinauland is the largest at 460,000 square kilometres. The seat is at Kubousthorpe, and Cauwouhaven stands furthest from its neighbours, 196 kilometres. No part of this country has been visited twice.

DHIAPIRNORA

a survey of the country, in 5 provinces

Dhiapirnora lies between the 47th and 63rd parallels. Of the ground within the neat line, 40 parts in a hundred are land. The Gaisaugai breaks upon its western shore, and the Treitru closes it to the east.

The ground rises to 3,111 metres. The Fiacoukha carry the highest of it.

The Fianaitiald is the longest of the rivers shown, 870 kilometres from its source to the sea. The Thaetrausk is next at 620 kilometres, draining 119,000 square kilometres. Lakes take up 12.8 parts in a hundred of the land, most of them strung along the greater courses.

The country is divided into Foustiora, Giagaimoor, Khiafireach, Baisheiland and Stiastousora, of which Foustiora is the largest at 315,000 square kilometres. The seat is at Dhoukaemholm, and Stouchaelford stands furthest from its neighbours, 143 kilometres. No part of this country has been visited twice.

CHEBRAORA

surveyed in the year MDCCCXII

CHEBRAORA

a survey of the country, in 5 provinces

Chebraora lies between the 33rd and 49th parallels. Of the ground within the neat line, 34 parts in a hundred are land. The Niaski breaks upon its western shore, and the Tretraunem closes it to the east.

The ground rises to 3,410 metres. The Truhiam carry the highest of it.

The Grotritru is the longest of the rivers shown, 970 kilometres from its source to the sea. The Stopaiglil is next at 970 kilometres, draining 207,000 square kilometres. Lakes take up 9.3 parts in a hundred of the land, most of them strung along the greater courses.

The country is divided into Pilautwyn, Nekhaewyn, Braevaunath, Huskemark and Vriaskianmoor, of which Pilautwyn is the largest at 469,000 square kilometres. The seat is at Gruglirthorpe, and Difeistead stands furthest from its neighbours, 161 kilometres. No part of this country has been visited twice.

KHUVRURKATH

a survey of the country, in 5 provinces

Khuvrurkath lies between the 36th and 51st parallels. Of the ground within the neat line, 37 parts in a hundred are land. The Shaipand breaks upon its western shore, and the Thakhothithu closes it to the east.

The ground rises to 2,828 metres. The Shamastoucu carry the highest of it.

The Chushosto is the longest of the rivers shown, 870 kilometres from its source to the sea. The Choubostusvu is next at 870 kilometres, draining 73,000 square kilometres. Lakes take up 10.4 parts in a hundred of the land, most of them strung along the greater courses.

The country is divided into Vrestoia, Zaigrarkia, Gesviskath, Yumairheim and Beithasia, of which Vrestoia is the largest at 380,000 square kilometres. The seat is at Stoushouwick, and Chusherbridge stands furthest from its neighbours, 136 kilometres. No part of this country has been visited twice.
